Welcome to our joyful celebration of our dear friend, Dr. Florence Ross.

Where does one begin to describe Florence's essence? Do we discuss her many achievements over the past decades, the people she mentored, the loves of her life and their journeys, or maybe just the energy she generates wherever she goes? Whatever criteria we choose, everyone who knows this incredible woman agrees she is a phenomena personified.

In 1936, at 15, she graduated from high school and was voted "Girl Most Likely to Succeed." Little did they know that our Florence surpassed that prediction to become an international figure promoting causes that make our world a better place. To this day, this is her passion in life.

Florence created public awareness in the United States by initiating protests against German atrocities. She socialized with Helena Rubinstein, Salvador Dali, Yitzchak Rabin, Bill Clinton, Eleanor Roosevelt and others who worked for positive world changes. At a U.N. peacekeeping mission, she denounced the superpowers as acting like "little boys playing a game of one-upmanship" and told them they should all be fired. The Soviets immediately named her "Grandmother to the World." They loved her so much, she was invited back to the United Nations a few years ago.

Unstoppable, Florence made a giant footprint on our wonderful planet. We love and appreciate who she is... outrageous, loving, spirited and committed to making a difference in the world. Florence, don't ever become "well-behaved"! Happy 90th Birthday.
